ThinkHI IDEATHON - Humanitarian Technologies for Sustainable Development

Team Specifications

Students can participate as individuals or in teams of 2 to 4 members.

Method of conduction

Since this is a multi-stage event, the procedures vary for each stage, and are mentioned in Rules and Regulations under respective stages.

General Rules:

1. The decision of the judges will be final and binding in all the rounds.
2. Misconduct or potential malpractice in any form may lead to disqualification.
3. Participants are advised to be present at the respective meeting platforms in advance to avoid last-minute hassles. Any request for a delay will not be entertained.
4. Participants are requested to ensure the proper functioning of their login credentials. Any anomaly must be informed well in advance so that necessary steps can be taken to resolve it beforehand.
5. It is the participant's responsibility to have a stable internet connection. Dealing with any discontinuity in the event on the participant's side is not the organisers' responsibility.
6. All submitted entries would be checked for plagiarism and appropriate action will be taken if any found.
7. If need be, the stages would be supervised with the help of Google meet/Cisco WebEx.

Stage 1: Preliminary Round

1. Participants will have to come up with a new innovative idea based on the given topic(Humanitarian Technologies based on Sustainable Development).
2. Participants have to make a video presentation of 5 minutes and submit it in the given drive folder.
3. Based on the video presentations, 5 participants will be selected from the preliminary round to compete in the finals.

Stage 2: Final Round

1. Top 5 selected participants will have a live demonstration of their idea in front of the jury.
2. Participants in this round will have a presenting time of 7 minutes and a Q and A session for 3 minutes.
3. The Q and A session would be based on the given idea and also on how the idea could be implemented.

Judging Criteria

Scores from the final round will be considered for the final evaluation. Top 2 innovative ideas will be announced as winners.

FIDELITY

Team Specifications

Only individual participation is allowed.

Prerequisites:

1. Participants should have good command on the fundamental concepts of electronics.
2. Participants should be familiar with MATLAB online editor.
3. Participants should be familiar with NI online simulator and should have an account on it. (A demo video will be shared on how NI online simulator works if the participants are new to it).

Method of conduction

Since this event is a multi-stage event, conduction procedure varies for each stage which is mentioned in Rules and Regulations under respective stages.

General Rules:

1. The decision of the judges will be final and binding in all the rounds.
2. Misconduct or potential malpractice in any form will be penalized and may result in disqualification and/or ban.
3. Participants are advised to be present at the respective meeting platforms in advance to avoid last-minute hassles. Any request for a delay will not be entertained.
4. Participants are requested to ensure the proper functioning of their login credentials. Any anomaly must be informed well in advance so that necessary steps can be taken to resolve it beforehand.
5. It is the participant's responsibility to have a stable internet connection. Dealing with any discontinuity in the event on the participant's side is not the organisers' responsibility.
6. All submitted entries would be checked for plagiarism and appropriate action will be taken if found.
7. All stages will be supervised with the help of Google meet/Cisco Webex if needed.

Stage 1: Technical Quiz

1. Participants will be given a set of multiple-choice questions related to basic electronics and communication engineering.
2. This stage will be conducted through google forms. The google form will be shared one day prior to the actual event.
3. The number of right answers with their respective weightage account for 85% of the total score and the remaining 15% of the score is based on the submission time.
4. All the registered participants need to fill in the form through the mail ID which was used while registration.
5. Only one submission is allowed per participant. Resubmission of form is not allowed and will not be graded.

Stage 2: Circuit Debugging with NI Online Simulator (MultiSim):

1. Participants will be given screenshots of 5-10 faulty/incomplete circuits along with the required outputs.
2. Participants should debug the circuit and share the debugged circuit using NI online Simulator within the specified time limit.
3. Each circuit will have a specified point value. The more difficult the circuit, the more points a correct solution will receive.
4. The debugged circuit should have a minimum possible number of changes from the given original circuit. Any debugged circuit with more than a certain percentage of change won't be accepted.
5. Debugged circuit evaluation will be done by an independent judge (appointed by the event committee) and the points for the individual participants will be calculated.
6. In case of partial debugging of the circuits, respective scores corresponding to the circuit will be awarded.
7. In case of any tie, time of submission will be taken into consideration.

Stage 3: MATLAB Nut-Cracker

1. Participants will be provided with a reference document before the day of the event. This document will contain basics required for the final stage.
2. Set of questions will be given at the specified time frame. Participants have 3 hrs duration to solve the questions.
3. Questions could be in different formats ranging from direct coding to debugging the given code. It may even involve simulations.
4. Participants should solve all the questions in MATLAB and share the MAT/SLX files to the organising committee via mail in the specified time.
5. The code is evaluated based on the accuracy, neatness, number of steps/blocks, and comments.
6. In case of any tie, time of submission will be taken into consideration.

Judging Criteria

Scores from all three stages will be considered for final evaluation. It will be scaled down to 100 and the scores will be revealed. Top 2 participants will be announced as winners.

3. Members of a team may be from the same or different college/school/clubs.
4. Models should be built from scratch and should not be purchased.
5. Only electrical motors are allowed.
6. Professionals and professional clubs are restricted from participation.
7. If anyone found not following the above rules, they will be disqualified.
8. The team will have to submit a video, which would need to comply with the following criteria: -
 - a) Each team member should be introduced in the video and should be wearing their college id cards (i.e, we should be able to see your id card clearly).
 - b) Model presentation can be done by a team member or can also be a group presentation.
 - c) A picture in picture format video for the take-off acrobatics and landing. (sample video will be shared).
 - d) The team should have two cameras (can be that of a smartphone or a professional camera whichever is available to the team) for recording the acrobatic part with one camera fixated on the pilot from the start till the end of acrobatics and the other should be a wide angle shot with both the pilot and the drone (in the beginning) in the picture, which during flight of drone should shift entirely to the drone.
 - e) The pilot should confirm the fact that he is in fact controlling the same aero model via the controller following which he/she can proceed to the acrobatics. Also do confirm that there is only one working controller on the scene by showing the surroundings (please note that the confirmation of control and acrobatic performance should be one take, if any cuts or skips are noted your team will be disqualified).

Judging Criteria

1. Brief presentation on the model
2. Aerodynamic Design and Appearance
3. Take off and Safe Landing
4. 180-degree turn
5. Figure of 8
6. Aerobatic Moves
7. Circuit
8. Finishing

SCHOOL OF THOUGHTS

ROUND 1 - QUIZ

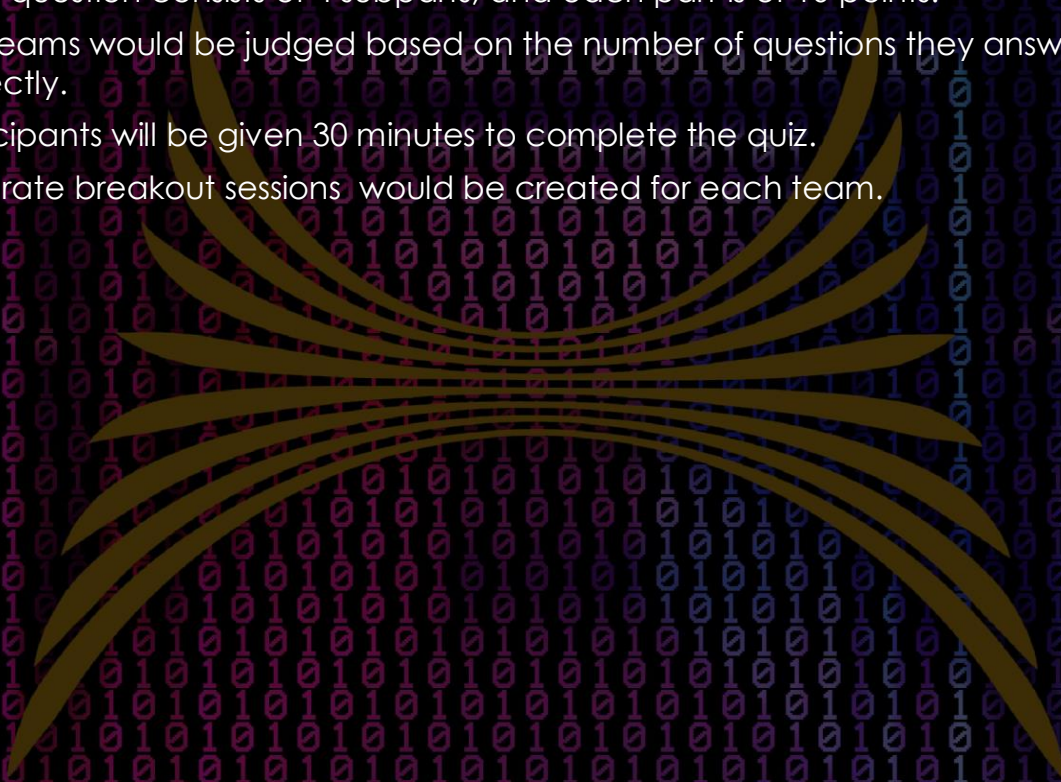

General Rules:

1. Types of questions- The questions would be in the form of case studies (won't be direct) and participants will be allowed to discuss among teammates and take help from other resources.
2. Questions will be formed by the student coordinator and the quiz master - the participants will be informed about the details 1 week prior to the event.
3. Platform- Microsoft Teams
4. Event form- Live
5. Each team would be allotted a team number.
6. All the team members should have their videos and audios on when in the breakout session.
7. Selections - This is considered as an elimination round.
8. Participants are required to login at least 20 min prior to the quiz.
9. Participants would be given the instructions in the main meeting.
10. The team members would have to nominate one person from the team, who is going to fill the google form.
11. The QR code for the google form would be displayed on the screen which has to be scanned by the nominated participant.

Flow of events:-

1. Teams will be assigned into breakout rooms with their respective members along with one volunteer.
2. Volunteers will invigilate and display the question on the screen.
3. A timed Google form will be released where the team will submit the answer. Breakout rooms will close and the teams will move back into the main meeting to discuss the answers.

Judging Criteria

1. Each question consists of 4 subparts, and each part is of 10 points.
 2. The teams would be judged based on the number of questions they answer correctly.
 3. Participants will be given 30 minutes to complete the quiz.
 4. Separate breakout sessions would be created for each team.

ROUND 2 - DEBATE

General Rules:

1. 4 participants from each team
2. 2 Judges
3. 1 moderator
4. Qualifying teams from the quiz will be allowed to choose a particular school of thought from the list which we will be provided in the whatsapp group from our volunteers.
5. Students will not be able to change allegiances, if there is some issue they will have to inform the volunteers about the same.
6. A total 8 teams will be selected from Round 1.
7. Each team will have to prepare a presentation on their topic. This presentation has to be mailed to the assigned volunteers before the assigned deadline.
8. On the day of the debate, one person from each team will have to come forward to present their topic. Rebuttals will be asked from the judges and audience.
9. The student will be given a total of 7+2 minutes. Speaking beyond the time limits will lead to negative marking.
10. The presenting team will have to answer all questions posed by the judges.
11. In case the qualifying teams are more in number, then the teams will be broken down into separate rooms with maximum 4 teams in one room. The assigned individual judges or teams can present in pairs during particular time slots which will be given prior to the day of the competition.

Flow of the programme:

1. Login and welcome
2. Instructions by Moderator
3. Presentations- after every presentation time will be yielded to:
 - i. Audience question
 - ii. Judges questions/rebuttal
 - iii. Final Remarks by the team

Judging Criteria

1. Fluency
 2. Figure of Speech
 3. Relevance to the stance
 4. Validity of the sources
 5. Rebuttal Arguments
